Website Privacy

As used herein, the terms "Bible First," "we," "our," and "us" refer to Euro Team Outreach, Inc., a Texas 501©(3) non-profit corporation, whose registered office is 16723 Britford, Houston, TX 77084, including all its subsidiaries and affiliates.

Bible First desires to protect and secure the personal information of all users of its website, mobile applications, or services. The following Privacy Policy (this "Privacy Policy") shall appear on the Bible First websites, getbiblefirst.com, biblefirst.online, and all related websites and shall be updated from time to time as deemed necessary.

Privacy Policy and Terms of Service

This Privacy Policy applies to information Bible First collects when you visit getbiblefirst.com, biblefirst.online, and any other websites, mobile applications, or services related to Bible First. This Privacy Policy describes how we collect, use, and share information about you, and is to protect and secure the personal information you provide to us online.

We respect your privacy while visiting our website. Bible First will never sell, lease, rent, or divulge your confidential information. During your online experience with Bible First, we want you to feel safe. We will take the necessary steps to assure that any information you provide to us will remain secure. Review of this policy will help you better understand our practices.

Collecting Your Information

Bible First may ask you to provide us with personal information at times during your online experience. The type of information we collect typically corresponds directly with your site interaction. Examples of personal information we may collect include, but are not limited to:

- Name
- Date of birth
- Email address
- Billing, shipping, physical address
- Phone number
- Credit card information
- Other personal information as necessary

There are several different ways in which we collect information from visitors on our website, including, but not limited to:

- Requests for information or materials from our ministry
- Signing up for various email lists
- Contributing through online donations
- Purchase of online goods or services
- Questions or comments through the website

We will use your information for the purposes for which it was obtained, including some or all of the following purposes:

- Consumer service, including responses to your inquiries
- Consumer engagement to help you become actively engaged with Bible First and its people. This may involve the use of various forms of communication, including email, letter, telephone, text messaging, and online chat features.
- Account maintenance and record keeping
- Fulfilling online orders for goods or services
- Giving and contributions

As a visitor, the personal information you provide may also be used to improve the usability of, and information available on, our site. By voluntarily providing your personal information, you acknowledge that you consent to our use of such information to better serve you and others who visit our website, as well as to maintain contact with you, solicit contributions from you, and provide you with information about Bible First.

While Bible First will never sell, lease, or rent your confidential information, we may need to disclose personal information as required by law, court order, subpoena, search warrant, or in response to a law enforcement agency request to enforce our Terms of Service, site rules, or to protect the safety and security of our visitors.

We may share your information with organizations that are part of Bible First, or that become part of Bible First. Those entities may use this information to help provide, understand, improve, and further their ministries, but will honor your requests, if any, to limit use. We may also share your information as well as information from tools like cookies, device identifiers, and location data, with third party organizations that serve as our service providers. Those service providers will be given access to your information as is reasonably necessary to provide the service under reasonable confidentiality terms. We may use cookies to help improve your experience.

Third Party Relationships

Bible First may use third-party service providers to collect, process, and/or store personal information. Those third parties may serve, contact, or collect information directly from Bible First users, and place or recognize cookies in their browsers. You may be subject to the privacy policy and terms and conditions of those third-party service providers.

Communication

Bible First does not send communications without your consent. When a comment or inquiry is made or when you contribute online to Bible First, you may receive email or postal mailings including letters, invitations, or resources. You may opt out of any or all of these communications upon request.

Deletion/Deactivation

You may delete your Bible First Online user account at any time. Once you have chosen to remove your information from our email database, you should stop receiving email within three to five business days. At any time, you may sign up for a new account at which point you would again receive emails and notifications from Bible First.

Restrictions or Use of Our Online Materials

All materials contained on our website are the property of Bible First. No online material from our website may be copied, reproduced, republished, uploaded, posted, transmitted, or distributed for commercial purposes without our permission. You may not add, delete, distort, or misrepresent any content on the Bible First website.

Security

The security of your personal information is important to us, and we strive to implement and maintain reasonable, commercially acceptable security practices appropriate to the nature of the information we store, in order to protect it from unauthorized access, use, modification, or disclosure. Our website uses encryption to protect sensitive data transmissions from your computer to our website. You are able to see when the encryption is active either by the “padlock” icon in your browser window (typically in the address bar) or by the site URL changing to <https://> . Information collected is only accessible to appropriate personnel administering your account or collecting your information.

Changes to Privacy Policy

Bible First reserves the right to make changes to this Privacy Policy at any time and requests that you review this policy periodically for updates. Your continued use of Bible First's website after we post any modifications to this Privacy Policy will constitute your acknowledgment of the modifications and consent to abide and be bound by the modified Privacy Policy.

Questions or Suggestions

We have taken every effort to design our website to be useful, informative, helpful, and honest. Please let us know if you would like to see improvements or changes that would make it even easier for you to find the information you need and want.
